Unique Multiculture Formula for Children of All Ages*

Florajen4Kids helps maintain a natural balance of flora, important for intestinal health and a developing immune system

Bifidobacteria play an extraordinary and essential role in children's digestive and immune health. That's why Florajen's founding bacteriologist has developed a probiotic formula especially for children.*

If children are unable to acquire natural balances of microbial flora at birth or during breastfeeding, or if antibiotics disrupt natural balances, supplementation of good flora may help establish and maintain a healthy gut repertoire.
